

Email From: Ryan Persoon
Sent: Monday, September 26, 2011

If interested in an odor control, please read the below "product study" we conducted this summer.

Any questions, please contact me.

I was contacted by Scott Berggren of Amiran Technologies LLC to try out an odor control that they offer. Scott and Frank have been very gracious to send us free samples to use this summer to see if it helped with smells associated with fish cleaning stations. The samples came in three, 5 gallon containers.

We tried BG - Clean 1103N at Bush's Landing Fish Cleaning Station (FCS) table and catfish cans as well as cans from Little Bend. This product is a powder that was liberally applied to the table, surrounding area, and empty cans via use of a large shaker bottle similar to a cheese and spice shaker from a pizza restaurant. Although we do not typically experience smells from the fish cleaning table itself, we hoped there would be a considerable decrease in smell from the vaults when we pump them out. There was not, but this product worked to remove about 90%+ of the smell associated with fish cans and fish juice that spilled on the concrete or in the back of vehicles. I consider this product a must have for this purpose.

BG-Clean 1103LH is basically the same as 1103N, except it is supposed to be 1103N on steroids. It too is a powder, but a very fine powder. We used this at Bob's FCS and West Whitlock FCS as well as catfish cans from both areas with the same type of shaker bottle. We experienced the same result as the 1103N that we used down south.

From what we experienced at the areas and because BG-Clean 1103N is cheaper, I feel that this product does have a place here and would like to continue use by purchasing some for next season. In addition to our FCS tests, this product was used in dumpsters and other smelly areas with amazing results.

In total, we only used a little over 5 gallons of total product at each of the three areas, so a little does go a long way! I feel it is a good deal and support the product, BG - Clean 1103N.

*Thanks -
Ryan M. Persoon
District 13 Supervisor
West Whitlock Recreation Area
16157A West Whitlock Rd
Gettysburg, SD 57442
(605) 765-9410*